

Call for Nominations for

ACM Transactions on Multimedia Computing, Communications and Applications

Nicolas D. Georganas Best Paper Award

The Editor-in-Chief of ACM TOMM invites you to nominate candidates for the ACM Transactions on Multimedia Computing, Communications and Applications Nicolas D. Georganas Best Paper.

The award is given annually to the author(s) of an outstanding paper published in print in ACM TOMM within the previous legal year from January 1 until December 31. The main criteria are quality, novelty, timeliness, clarity of presentation, and relevance to multimedia. The award carries a plaque as well as travel funds to the ACM MM conference where the awardee(s) will be honored. Nominations for the award must include the following:

- A statement describing the technical contributions of the nominated paper and a description of the significance of the paper. The statement should not exceed 500 words. No self-nomination is accepted.
- Two additional supporting statements by recognized experts in the field regarding the technical contribution of the paper and its significance to the respective field.

Nominations will be reviewed by the Selection Committee and the winning paper will finally be voted by the TOMM Editorial Board. Deadline for nominations of papers published in ACM TOMM from January 2017 to December 2017, is July 10th, 2018. Only papers published in regular issues (no Special Issues) can be nominated.

Please send your nominations and any questions to the Editor-in-Chief of ACM TOMM at: eic.tomm@gmail.com.

Selection Committee:

Simone Calderara, University of Modena and Reggio Emilia, Italy

Cheng-Hsin Hsu, National Tsing Hua University, Taiwan

Nicu Sebe, University of Trento, Italy

James She, Hong Kong University of Science & Technology, Hong Kong

Shervin Shirmohammadi, University of Ottawa, Canada